CONFLICT OF INTEREST CERTIFICATION FOR NASA FEDERAL EMPLOYEES WORKING ON HUMAN RESEARCH PROTOCOLS

This form documents aspects of the conflicts of interest (COI) review process necessary to clear you for conduct of a human subject research protocol in accordance with applicable COI and human subject research laws. Federal employees must certify that they have no actual or perceived COI with protocols on which they are working. This form must be completed by all NASA federal employees who are working on a protocol as an investigator, co-investigator, or member of the research team. A new COI form must be promptly submitted to the NASA IRB whenever a new potential conflict is identified.

Should you believe you may have an actual and/or perceived COI or have a question regarding the COI statutes and regulations applicable to federal employees, please contact the NASA IRB Chair or your local Office of the General Counsel.

Please complete all the information below and retain a copy of this form for your records.
